“The quality of the detail work and its seamless match with a building erected in 1914, expanded in 1953 and then again in 1962 has resulted in a facility we all can be proud of... It was with pride that we could show off the work that was in progress.”

To Whom It May Concern:

Immanuel Church Highlands commissioned the architects at Anderson, Brown, Higley Associates to develop a plan for making our church accessible to those with physical limitations. The modifications were offered for bid and SC&A Construction was the successful bidder. The completed project, exceeded our expectations as to quality construction, attention to detail, interaction with site personnel and integration of the new with the old.

Specifically representatives of SC&A:

- Set a standard for craftsmanship...
- Innovated in implementation...
- Acted as good stewards, maintaining a clean job site...
- Was an example of decorum...

Therefore, we commend to you the craftsmen of SC&A Construction, Inc. If a quality product at a fair price is what you desire, we recommend them to you.

Sincerely,

Mark Deschere & Ted Stipa
